

- 19 -

VEHICLE WIND TUNNEL METHOD AND APPARATUS

Abstract

A wind tunnel for measuring the aerodynamics of a vehicle may comprise a test section. Air moving through the test section may be collected in a plurality of 5 individual ducts, each with a fan for moving the air through the test section and ducts.

The vehicle or vehicle wheels may be supported at an incine.